

After review, I have decided to mainly focus on my website as a page to showcase myself to potential employers, with that, some content that was originally going to be on the webpage needed to be cut.

Content that does not have to do with my employment (Computer repair, marked by an X) is now going to be cut from my final webpage, it adds too much clutter and does not really sell myself as much as it needs to.

The content marked by triangles and stars are well places and now have a final spot on my website.

Creative Art section / Page 	Fun game on page to entertain users
Resume and Contact page 	Easy way to share website to other employee/ers
Family information / About me 	Cool smooth outline highlighting professional webs skills
Personal Welcome Video 	Non download online live PDF version of resume
Creative video showing old work examples	Instant page to call /contact me for freelance style work

Youtube subscription for job updates

Image section of work

Link to make your own website tools △	Computer repair section ×
Training section with costs ×	List of former employers / references ☆
A “what about this page” information list ☆
△ “Fun stuff / things I enjoy personally”
☆ Work related / self promotion content
Content cut	